HISTORIC STATEMENT IN WASHINGTON.

· Washington, July 6. DRESIDENT HOOVER believes that all outstanding moratorium differences between France and the United States have been removed by a new formula submitted to France, providing that all technical and other questions shall be referred to technical experts.

The acting Secretary of State, Mr. Castle, to-night declared:

"We have no further misgivings about the President's plan becoming effective."

Mr. Castle added that Mr. Mellon had been unable to accept the last French Note as a basis of settlement as it raised new and serious difficulties, many of which involved the Young Plan, of which America is not a signatory.

EARLIER FRENCH DEMANDS.

The French also asked America to undertake to provide loans to other countries and to facilitate the floating of foreign loan securities in the United States!

The French Ministers further insisted that twenty. million dollars' worth of reparations in kind should be distinguished from the other reparations, but it was not so much that a sum of $20,000,000 was involved as the fact that several other Governments had notified America that they Wild Men of would make exceptions if anyone else does. Thus, if the French attitude had been accepted, the plan would have been Glasgow most seriously whittled down,-Reuter.

ACCORD AT LAST REACHED.

Paris, July 6. France and the United States are at last in accord about the application of the Hoover proposal.—Havas.

It is semi-officially stated that France is summoning an immediate conference in Paris of the Young Plan signatories. and meanwhile accepts President Hoover's viewpoint with the reservation that the technical points must be satisfactorily: settled.—Reuter.

Washington, Later. "I am glad to announce that the American proposal for moval of Mr. McGovern, one of one year's postponement of all inter-governmental debts and their colleagues, who had been 44,790,485 in Great Britain, reparations has now been accepted in principle by all the im-suspended after disobeying the with a surplus of 1,861,063 for American pictures, that have portant creditor governments."

This historic statement was made late to-night by offered by Mr. James Maxton, President Hoover, marking the successful outcome of to-day's Mr. G. Buchanan, Mr. J. Kinley two million increase as compared Franco-American conversations in Paris.

President Hoover pointed out that the terms of acceptance. All are members of the Left by the French Government were subject to the approval of Wing of the Labour Party. other interested Powers for whom the United States naturally cannot speak.

Fine appreciation of the tense human interest and plentiful comedy contained in "The Dancers," Fox Movietone directed by Chandler Sprague featuring Lois Moran and Phillips Holmes, marked the local premiere of that picture now showing at the King's Theatre. "The Dancers" is the Movietone version of the famous stage play of the same name by Sir Gerald Du Maurier and Viola Tree. Its English locale and treatment is evident from the fact that Sir Du Maurier himself played the role of "Tony" in the Messrs. LAMMERT BROTHERS, original London stage presentation. Subtlety and wisdom of direction is seen throughout in the very capable way Chandler Sprague handled both theme and cast. At every point his DEATH OF SIR WM. WATERLOW.

1929 LORD MAYOR.

London, July 6. Sir William Waterlow, former Lord Mayor of London, died in a nursing home to-day, after a short illness, at the age of 60. A well-known city magnate, he came of a Walloon Protestant family which emigrated from Lille 300 years ago and settled at Canterbury. Eventually they started a silk weaving business in Spitalfields, London, and their connexion with the printing trade dates from 1790, when James Waterlow was apprenticed to a law stationer. was educated at Marlhorough and in Germany, and was admitted a solicitor in 1896. Two years later he became a director of the Waterlow firm. In 1904 he married a daughter of Thomas Gordon of Edinburgh.

When war broke out, he was asked by the Government to design a suitable paper currency with all speed. By noon next day his designs had been accepted and three days later some 15,000,000 had been delivered and an acute financial situation saved.

Throughout the war, he was a member of the City of London National Guard, helping to dig many trenches and eventually being given a commission. He was knighted (K.B.E.) in 1919. Sir William served as President of the Federation of Master Printers of Great Britain and Ireland and of the London Master Printers' Federation. When the Lord Mayor's Miners' Relief Fund was started, he was very active in its administration and visited the distressed areas. In Nov., 1920, he resigned his directorship of Waterlow and several persons injured in the Sons, but was still on the board of three other printing firms. In 1929 he was elected Master of the Station is Company. Her was chosen Lerd Mayor of London in Nov., 1929. Keenly interested in outdoor sports, he played Rugby football until he was 32 and at 58 was still playing a good game of tennis and golf .- British Wireless and LB.S.

YOUNG WIDOW DUPED.

VICTIMISED BY WOMEN FORTUNE-TELLERS.

A young widow, named Chan Pat, has become wiser, though poorer by $45 after an experience with local fortune-tellers the other day. She tells the police that, having been introduced to two women fortune-tellers, she handed them the money, which was in notes and wrapped up in a parcel. Much of the joss pidgin which followed was inexplicable and to her, wrapped in mystery, but it was designed to confer much wealth on the widow. However, after the ceremony, she received back the parcel, but omitted to upwrap it until her return home, when she found that instead of the wad of notes thaving been augmented, it had been substituted by a bundle of uscless paper.

Why is it so important to keep the right elbow tacked in close o the body?

Most golfers know that to hit a successful golf shot it is necessary to bring the club into the ball from the inside. To accomplish this, the right elbow must be held close to the body during the swing. Tommy Armour attributes much of his success to this simple fundamental. Should the elbow wander away, the right hand is almost sure to have too much control, hitting from the outside and cutting ncross the ball.

If the player will concentrate on this particular duty, many of the fundamentals of the golf swing will automatically follow.— ART KRENZ.
